Advice for students and parents

What to do if you're bullied
1) If it is minor and it doesn't bother you, ignore it.
2) If the bullying continues, tell the bully that you do not like what is happening and you want it to stop. Use an assertive, confident sounding voice.
3) If the bullying continues past this point, tell your teacher. He or she will investigate the problem and have a talk to the bully.
4) If the bullying continues, tell your teacher. He or she will notify the Deputy Principal/Principal and a restorative conference will take place.
5) Any bullying behavior that continues after this conference should be reported immediately to the Deputy Principal/Principal.

What to do if you see bullying happening
- If you feel able, ask the bully to lay off.
- Provide support for the victim by staying with them and encouraging them to leave the area.
- If the bullying has been ongoing, encourage the victim to report the bullying to the teacher.
- Keep an eye out for any more bullying incidents that may occur.

What can parents do?

As parents you are the most influential models for your child.
1) Take an active interest in what your child does at school and in their social life
2) Foster a tolerant home life by:
   - Encouraging your child to bring friends home.
   - Accept and tolerate differences within others.
   - Set firm but fair boundaries.
   - Demonstrate care and consideration for others.
3) Discuss Bullying
   - Talk about the schools' behavior expectations.
   - Advise that retaliation does not solve the problem.
   - Report incidents of bullying to the classroom teacher.
   - Explain what to do if your child witnesses bullying occurring.

Bullying Myths

MYTH 1: Bullying has and always will be a normal part of growing up.

FACT 1: Research has shown that peer abuse can be as traumatic as other types of abuse perpetrated against children and that it can cause or exacerbate serious mental health problems. There is nothing whatsoever that is normal or desirable about bullying. The majority of students surveyed have said that they dislike bullying in schools and want programs to stop bullying.

MYTH 2: It is easy for teachers to pick who are the bullies in the school.

FACT 2: There is a general expectation that bullying is physical and visible. Bullying, however, can be subtle and involve a range of behaviours that make the victim extremely uncomfortable. Many students who bully are socially adept and are able to conceal their aggressive motives and behaviour from others. Furthermore, confidants in the bully's peer group may actually carry out a great deal of the bullying on behalf of the ring leader.

Bullying Myths

MYTH 1: Bullying has and always will be a normal part of growing up.

FACT 1: Research has shown that peer abuse can be as traumatic as other types of abuse perpetrated against children and that it can cause or exacerbate serious mental health problems. There is nothing whatsoever that is normal or desirable about bullying. The majority of students surveyed have said that they dislike bullying in schools and want programs to stop bullying.

MYTH 2: It is easy for teachers to pick who are the bullies in the school.

FACT 2: There is a general expectation that bullying is physical and visible. Bullying, however, can be subtle and involve a range of behaviours that make the victim extremely uncomfortable. Many students who bully are socially adept and are able to conceal their aggressive motives and behaviour from others. Furthermore, confidants in the bully’s peer group may actually carry out a great deal of the bullying on behalf of the ringleader.

What is bullying?

Mandurah Baptist College aims to address the problem of bullying and aims to provide sound support structures for victims of bullying. All staff of the College have a duty of care to students, ensuring a safe and non-threatening environment for all students.

Definition of bullying:
A student is being bullied when he or she is exposed, repeatedly and over time to negative actions on the part of one or more students. Bullying is characterised by an imbalance of power.

Teasing:
Some children seem to enjoy teasing. What children often don’t know is when to stop. Something that appears to be good natured and fun can turn into feeling uncomfortable for the receiver. It is at this point that the receiver needs to be able to ask for the teasing to stop. If it continues, this would be considered bullying.

Conflict:
Conflict has a different dimension from bullying as it involves a disagreement where one or both party’s needs are not being met but does not involve an abuse of power. If handled well, conflict is considered to be an opportunity for personal growth.

Types of Bullying
- Physical: e.g. hitting, punching, kicking the victim, taking or damaging the victim’s property.
- Verbal: e.g. name calling, constant teasing, insults, racist comments, sexist comments.
- Emotional: e.g. excluding peers from groups, spreading rumours, stalking, interference with, or damage to personal property.
- Cyber Bullying: Cyber bullying involves the use of information and communication technologies such as e-mail, mobile phone, instant messaging, and defamatory personal web-sites, to support the repeated, harmful and negative behaviour by an individual or group towards another individual or group.

Advice for students and parents

What is bullying?

Mandurah Baptist College aims to address the problem of bullying and aims to provide sound support structures for victims of bullying. All staff of the College have a duty of care to students, ensuring a safe and non-threatening environment for all students.

Definition of bullying:
A student is being bullied when he or she is exposed, repeatedly and over time to negative actions on the part of one or more students. Bullying is characterised by an imbalance of power.

Teasing:
Some children seem to enjoy teasing. What children often don’t know is when to stop. Something that appears to be good natured and fun can turn into feeling uncomfortable for the receiver. It is at this point that the receiver needs to be able to ask for the teasing to stop. If it continues, this would be considered bullying.

Conflict:
Conflict has a different dimension from bullying as it involves a disagreement where one or both party’s needs are not being met but does not involve an abuse of power. If handled well, conflict is considered to be an opportunity for personal growth.

Types of Bullying
- Physical: e.g. hitting, punching, kicking the victim, taking or damaging the victim’s property.
- Verbal: e.g. name calling, constant teasing, insults, racist comments, sexist comments.
- Emotional: e.g. excluding peers from groups, spreading rumours, stalking, interference with, or damage to personal property.
- Cyber Bullying: Cyber bullying involves the use of information and communication technologies such as e-mail, mobile phone, instant messaging, and defamatory personal web-sites, to support the repeated, harmful and negative behaviour by an individual or group towards another individual or group.
What does MBC do about bullying?

Mandurah Baptist College’s approach to bullying falls into 3 categories: Prevention, Early intervention and Intensive intervention.

Prevention

The key to preventing bullying from occurring is to create a culture at the College where students respect each other and enjoy learning together in a safe and supportive environment. There are several ways to ensure this happens:

1) Expectation
   All students at MBC are aware of the expectations that we have of them regarding their behavior. Most of our students live up to these expectations and as a result, we have had relatively minor problems with bullying at the school.

2) Education
   At Mandurah Baptist College, our students participate in a structured Social and Emotional Learning program called, “You Can Do It!” or “Friendly Schools and Families” in their classroom learning program. These programs teach students the keys of: Resilience, Confidence, Persistence, Getting Along and Organisation.

   As part of these programs, students are encouraged to deal with conflict in constructive ways, to communicate in more effective ways and to examine their thinking processes in order to find more rational ways of dealing with difficult situations or people. This helps to “up-skill” both the bully and the victim.

3) Adequate and active supervision
   Staff actively supervise students during all breaks including before and after school. Administration have made sure that there are no ‘blind-spots’ in the school grounds due to lack of supervision.

4) Peer support programs
   Older students are provided with opportunities that teach them how to mentor and provide support for younger students, i.e. ‘buddy classes.’ This gives students additional support if they are feeling vulnerable and allows older students to empathize more with the needs of younger students.

Early-intervention

1) House Captain Involvement
   House Captains are encouraged to intervene and assist students who are victims of bullying. This gives victims of bullying additional support in reporting bullying and assisting in ongoing support for the victim.

2) By-stander behaviour
   Student s are encouraged to act on behalf of a victim if they notice a student being bullied. This may include talking to the bullies, reporting it to a teacher and providing support to the victim.

3) Restorative conferencing
   When bullying is identified, rather than impose punishment on the bully, which may lead to further repercussions for the victim, we ask the victim and the bully to meet together with the DP to discuss the problem and find ways to restore the broken relationship. Without the threat of punishment hanging over the bully, students will usually find a way to resolve the conflict to the satisfaction of all involved.

4) Record-keeping
   All bullying incidents are documented and kept on file so that we can track students who are the victims or perpetrators of bullying incidents. Parents and teachers (if necessary) are also contacted if the bullying reaches the restorative conference stage.

Intensive-intervention

1) Intervention Plan
   Creation of an intervention plan involving the bully, their parents, the Deputy Principal/Principal and the College Psychologist or Chaplain.

2) Sanctions
   For involvement in on-going bullying after a restorative conferencing meeting, the student would be suspended for one day. Any further bullying would result in further suspensions in accordance with the Primary School Discipline Policy.

What can the College do when the bullying happens off-campus, like on the internet or at the shopping centre?

If a student or students who attend Mandurah Baptist College engage in bullying behaviour towards other students from the College outside school this will obviously have a negative impact on the victim’s relationship with those students whilst at the College. For this reason, Mandurah Baptist College reserves the right to apply the bullying policy including imposing formal sanctions when any act takes place on or off-campus that causes or threatens to cause a substantial and material disruption or interference with the rights of students to feel safe and secure. This includes bullying or intimidation at shopping centres, on buses, on the internet or via mobile phones. These sanctions may include suspension or exclusion from the College.